CHANGE IN QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR ANG AGR POSITIONS

1. This instruction is to clarify concerns about the qualification requirements for ANG AGR positions. In the past ANG AGR job announcements were written as stated: "Enlisted personnel must possess an AFSC compatible with the SPMD upon selection for AGR duty. Current AGR members may be considered for retraining, if they are eligible for entry into the required AFSC, and meet all other requirements IAW ANGI 36-101."
2. In accordance with the new ANGI 36-101 dated 3 May 2002, the following changes will be made. In future job announcements the paragraph will be as follows: "Enlisted personnel who do not possess the AFSC compatible with the UMD may be considered for retraining if they are eligible for entry into the required AFSC and meet all other requirements under IAW ANGI 36-101 and AFMAN 36-2105."
3. When a selection is made, the remote designee must complete the AGR eligibility checklist, which will be forwarded along with the selection package to the Air AGR program manager. The AGR selectee must meet all requirements before starting the AGR tour.
4. Any questions concerning this TAAI can be directed to the SSgt Freddie Jones at CAGNET 63355, DSN 466-3355 or commercial (916) 854-3355.
